Vineyard:

Nestled just 10 kilometers away from the refreshing embrace of the sea, this vineyard enjoys a uniquely mild climate that's perfect for nurturing exceptional grapes. While the mistral winds coming the mountains dry the vines, the Marin brings a breeze of humidity.

The soil, composed of gravel, creates the ultimate playground for vine growth. In our red wine plots, you'll find larger gravel stones, serving as nature's thermal sponges. They soak up the sun's warmth during the day, cradling the vineyards in a cozy embrace that keeps them snug during the cool nights.

What truly sets this wine apart is the winemaker's unwavering commitment to sustainability. This 12-hectare paradise is lovingly tended by Fanny and Francois Boyer, passionate siblings who represent the fourth generation of vintners in their family. They're not just obsessed with crafting exceptional wines; they're equally dedicated to the art of biodynamic farming, ensuring that every sip of our wine carries a piece of their heartfelt dedication to the land and the future.
